The Port Colborne Fire Department is warning residents of a company currently going door-to-door in Port Colborne insisting on conducting Home Inspections. Residents are encouraged not to let them into their homes or provide them with any personal information. Attached are photos of the company's business cards along with phone numbers they are using.

Some City of Port Colborne Municipal Law Enforcement Officer business cards with the name Travis Morden on them were left in residents mailboxes. Be advised he had no complaints or issues in that area.
