

L.R. Wilson Heritage Research Archives Port Colborne Historical and Marine Museum

286 King St. Port Colborne, Ontario

905 834 7604 archives@portcolborne.ca

Presentations/ Lectures

- Ensuring the “Future Usefulness” of the Welland Canal: The Question of the Canal’s Lake Erie Terminus, 1824-1831
- Kaboom! Stories of Explosions in Port Colborne’s Past
- “With Great Sadness” The Victorians’ Approach to Death and Mourning
- Graves in the Dunes: History of the Gravelly Bay Burial Ground
- Helen Kinnear: Her Political and Legal Career
- Port Colborne and the Welland Canals: How the canals shaped the community
- Life on the Home Front during the First World War in Port Colborne and Humberstone
- The Second World War in Port Colborne, 1939-1945: The Home Front
- Creating a Cottage Community – The Humberstone Summer Resort Company
- Resilient Community: Disease, Epidemics, and Pandemics in Port Colborne’s Past
- Hand Weavers and Textile Production: The Graf Family of Humberstone
- HMCS Port Colborne and HMCS Humberstone: Local Namesakes in the Royal Canadian Navy: Items in the Museum and Archives Collections
- The Timber Frame Cabin and the Graf Loom – Port Colborne Museum’s Addition to the Historic Village
- Armchair Cemetery Tours: Overholt and Oakwood Cemetery
- Armchair Cemetery Tour: Honouring Military Service, Oakwood Cemetery